Let us know how your grad footage goes on Tuesday. Boarding has commenced and details can be found on the Grad video page. Glad you're giving your camera workout. I know you're under the gun learning Italian and your other homework so don't forget to get that done. If you're having a lull in shooting you can always focus on your writeups. Let me know if you want to skype or need any help. Buona fortuna!

I'm finding shooting is hard to schedule I shoot Journal entries when I have the time but the other shots I am only able to do when something is going on I plan on shooting the family and a meal at some point...Currently i'm focusing more on learning Italian

Sounds like everything is working well. Have you started creating an EDL (edit decision list) so as to cut down on your editing time? Watch out for some of your photos in FB--they're soft focused.
